THE PITTSBOROUGH CONVENTION.

FROM THE RALEIGH REGISTER.

In pursuance of previous notice, an Internal Improvement Convention was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the Town of Pittsborough, Chatham county, on Thursday 29th August, 1833. His Excellency Gov. Swain was present by invitation, Louis D. Henry, Jas. Seawell, Jos. Baker and Gabriel W. Holmes, as delegates from Fayetteville, and John Newlin as a delegate from Orange county. A respectable number of the citizens of Chatham participated in the proceedings of the Convention. The Convention was called to order by Thomas M. C. Prince, on whose motion, his Excellency David L. Swain was invited to preside over its deliberations and Thos. Thompson and Jonathan Harralson were appointed Secretaries. The President was conducted to the Chair, whence he stated the object of the Convention in a neat and appropriate address.

On motion of Henry S. Clark,

Resolved, That a Committee consisting of nine persons be appointed by the President, to whom shall be referred before they are acted upon by the Convention, all propositions on Internal Improvement that may be submitted, and that the said Committee be directed to report for consideration such resolutions as they may deem advisable.

The following persons were thereupon appointed to form the Committee in pursuance of the said Resolution, to wit: Henry S. Clark, James Seawell, Louis D. Henry, Hugh McQueen, Chas. J. Williams, John J. Alston, Peter Evans, Dr. Frederick J. Hill and Woodson Lea.

The following Preamble and Resolutions were then introduced by Mr. Clark, which as a matter of course, stand referred to the Committee.

WHEREAS, seeing that a praiseworthy disposition is now manifesting itself in many portions of our State to effect something which will redeem and elevate her character, and place her in the way to assume that stand among her sister States, to which the extent of her Territory, and the variety of her resources justly entitle her; and assured that this is only to be effected by building up good and convenient markets within her limits, and by furnishing cheap facilities to the farmer and mechanic for transporting the produce to those markets—believing that much remains to be done and that much may be done towards such an object, by "a strong pull, a long pull, and a pull altogether," and anxious to contribute our just proportion of services and zeal in this good cause:

1st. Resolved, That, as the wealth of any community consists in the prosperity of its individual members, so the Internal Improvement of our State, is only to be effected by a concentration of the efforts and resources of the people, in its several distinct portions, upon such works as they are most immediately interested in, and from the accomplishment of which they are induced to expect the most beneficial results to their individual interests.

2d. Resolved, That we regard transportation by water, when it can be had, as preferable to that which is afforded by Rail Roads, being cheaper in its provision, and promising greater permanency as well as requiring fewer repairs, at the same time that it affords equal safety and dispatch.

Resolved, That we regard the improvement of the Cape Fear River, between Fayetteville and Haywood, so as to admit of steam boat navigation, to be an object of primary importance to the people of Chatham and the adjoining counties, and one, towards the accomplishment of which, our first and most zealous efforts should be directed.

Resolved, That a committee of four persons be appointed for each of the counties of Chatham, Moore, Guilford, Cumberland, Randolph, Orange, Wake, New Hanover, Brunswick, Davidson, and Rowan, to solicit subscriptions to aid and assist in such undertaking, and to urge upon the people of their respective counties the necessity of doing something for North Carolina, now that a spirit of improvement is abroad.

Resolved, That if such subscriptions shall be found liberal enough to justify further steps, that the committee so appointed be requested to confer with the members of the Cape Fear Navigation and New Hope Companies, for the purpose of ascertaining from them, whether a transfer of their right and interest over so much of the River as intervenes between Fayetteville and Haywood, together with its tributary str ams, cannot be procured upon such terms, and what those terms are.

Resolved, That if such transfer can be had upon fair terms, and a new subscription shall warrant such a course, that the Legislature be petitioned to incorporate such Subscribers into a Company, with full and ample powers, over so much of the River as is named above, as will enable them to effect its improvement in such manner as to admit of good steamboat Navigation.

Resolutions were also introduced by Mr. Seawell, and referred to the Committee, but as the Committee did not report on these resolutions they are omitted. The resolutions of Mr. Seawell contemplated the recommendation of a general scheme of Internal Improvement to be controlled and prosecuted by the State. On submitting them to the Convention, Mr. Seawell urged the propriety and necessity of their adoption in an able and instructive address, in which was breathed a patriotic and enterprizing spirit and much valuable information on the subject of Internal Improvement was communicated.

On motion of Mr. Henry the Convention then adjourned until to-morrow morning 10 o'clock to allow the Committee time to report.

Friday, August 30, 1833.

The Convention assembled according to adjournment.

Mr. Clark from the Committee, reported the same Preamble and Resolutions as were introduced by him on yesterday to the Convention, together with the following resolution, which will be the 7th in the series reported:

Resolved, That we concur in the resolution adopted by the Internal Improvement Convention held at Raleigh on the 4th of July last, recommending to the Legislature that the State should subscribe two-fifths of the capital of any Company that may be formed to effect Internal Improvement where individuals shall have subscribed and secured to be paid three-fifths of the said Capital. Provided, in all cases, that the Legislature shall deem the charter of said Companies and the plan of improvements to be judicious, and provided further, that the effect of said plan is to establish primary markets within our own State.

These resolutions were then read separately & adopted without a dissenting voice.

On motion of Dr. Hill,

Resolved, That a Committee of three persons be appointed to represent the County of Chatham in the Convention to be held in the City of Raleigh, on the 4th Monday of November next.

On motion of Charles J. Williams,

Resolved, That the Representatives in the next General Assembly, for the county of Chatham, be instructed to use their best efforts to carry into effect the Resolutions adopted by this Convention.

On motion of Louis D. Henry,

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be given to his Excellency David L. Swain, for the able, impartial and dignified manner in which he has presided over its deliberations.

On motion of Mr. Prince,

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be presented to Thomas Thompson and Jonathan Harralson, for the faithful manner in which they have discharged the duties of Secretaries to this Convention.

On motion of Mr. Clark,

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be presented to the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Pittsborough for their kindness in tendering to this Convention the use of their Church.

On motion of Dr. Hill,

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention be signed by the President and Secretaries, and that the Editors of newspapers in this State, friendly to Internal Improvement, be requested to publish them.

THOS. THOMPSON, JONA. HARRALSON, } Secretaries.

In addition to the foregoing journal of the proceedings of the Convention, a friend has favored us with the following account of the discussions in that body.

While the series of resolutions recommended by the Committee, were pending, the Convention was successively addressed by Messrs. Clark, Henry, McQueen, and Prince, all of whom supported the Resolutions and spoke with much spirit and much to the elucidation of the subject of Internal Improvement in N. Carolina.

In the course of Mr. Henry's able and interesting speech, he made a statement which cannot fail to be interesting, particularly to the Cape Fear section of our State, to wit, that the charges of transportation from Fayetteville to Wilmington are lower than those of any Canal or Rail Road in the world with which he was acquainted. He deprecated in the strongest terms the idea that a spirit of rivalry and jealousy should be entertained towards each other by the towns of Haywood, Fayetteville and Wilmington; showed that their interests were the same, and that their exertions should be directed to the same object, the improvement of the Cape Fear and its tributary streams: Whatever benefited Haywood, must necesarily benefit Fay etteville; what would benefit Fayetteville, would benefit Wilmington, in the same manner that the blood that flows from the heart, to the extremities, communicates equal health and vigor to every part of the system. He then pointed out how much of the trade of a rich country might be commanded by concert of action between them, and what was to be lost by disunion. United in their efforts, they must necessarily grow and prosper together—distracted and divided, their trade and political influence were gone for ever.

In responding to the vote of thanks, the President of the Convention addressd that body for near an hour, upon the importance of the immediate commencement and vigorous prosecution of a general system of Internal Improvements. He insisted that although much might be accomplished by the enterprize and liberality of individuals, that the System could never be prosecuted to an extent commensurate with our resources, and required by every consideration of pride and patriotism, unless the Legislature furthered individual effort by the liberal expenditure of the public treasure. That a proper fund should at once be provided, either by taxation or loan. He preferred the latter plan, and submitted his views in favor of it in detail. He also illustrated at length the im mense advantages which our Southern section of country enjoys, and its peculiar adaptation for carrying into effect either by Canals or Rail Roads, a judicious system of Internal Improvement.

We have, on other occasions, enjoyed the pleasure of witnessing the efforts of his Excellency, but we are satisfied that we have never heard him when he was more forcible and eloquent than on this occasion. It is earnestly hoped, that the doctrines he advocates may receive a support equal to the zeal and ability with which they are enforced.

It has never been our good fortune to witness an assembly conducted with such harmony, and whose labors were terminated with more entire satisfaction. The result proves too, how much may be done towards infusing a right spirit into the minds of the great body of the people by a little exertion. Many persons who went into the Convention the decided opponents of Internal Improvement in any shape, but who went into it with honest intentions of being convinced if possible of their error, left it the warm advocates and prepared to become the willing supporters of the whole scheme.

After the labors of the Convention were ended, Mr. McQueen observed that he would avail himself of the opportunity afforded him by the present concourse of the people of Chatham, to introduce to their attention, in hopes that it would meet with their approbation, a Resolution in which all of them could not but feel themselves much interested. He introduced it at this particular time, believing that if adopted by such a respectable portion of the citizens of the County, it could not fail to derive much weight from that one consideration, and would necessarily have a fairer prospect of attracting the attention of our public agents. The following Resolution was then read and adopted:

Resolved, That, inasmuch as the people of Chatham are deeply concerned in the adoption of such measures as have a tendency to facilitate the intercourse between Pittsborough and Chapel Hill and Fayetteville, our Representative in Congress be requested to confer with the Postmaster General on the propriety of establishing a regular line of Stages, between Pittsborough and the Town of Fayetteville on the one hand, and the village of Chapel Hill, on the other.

THE HILLSBOROUGH CONVENTION.

From the Harbinger.

At eight o'clock last evening, we received, through the attention of an esteemed correspondent, the following account of the first day's proceedings of the Hillsborough Internal Improvement Convention:

Monday Evening, Sept. 9, 1833.

The Convention met this day according to appointment, at 4 o'clock, when it appeared that the following Members were present, to wit:

From Cumberland—James Seawell.

Rowan—Thomas G. Polk, Rufus K. Kilpatrick.

Caswell.—Willis N. Lea, James C. Williamson, Quintin Anderson.

Wake—David L. Swain, William Boylan, Alfred Jones.

Warren.—Henry Fitts.

Person.—James L. Webb, Alexander Gordon, Jas. Holman, Augustine Vanhook, Philips Moore, Portius Moore.

Granville—William M. Sneed, Samuel F Sneed, Spencer O'Brien, John S. Eaton, Memucan Hunt, Willie Royster, Joseph H. Bryan, Dr. Richard Coleman, Sandy Harris.

Guilford—John M. Dick, John A. Mebane, Daniel Clapp, Thomas Carbry.

The Convention was called to order by Dr. James Webb, of Hillsborough, who moved the appointment of David L. Swain, Esq. as President of the Convention, when Mr. Sandy Harris, of Oxford, opposed the same by a nomination of Judge Ruffin which was seconded by Maj. Memucan Hunt, of Granville—after which a short debate ensued, in which Messrs. Harris, Polk, O'Brien, Mebane, Nash and Hunt took part; whereupon the question being called; upon motion of Judge Nash, the yeas and nays were taken, from which it appeared that there were for Judge Ruffin 26, for Governor Swain 16; when upon motion of Maj. Hunt, Mr. Harris was requested to conduct the President elect to the Chair. The President on taking the Chair, made an appropriate and succinct address, in which he tendered his thanks for the honor and confidence conferred upon him.

On motion of Judge Nash, Walker Anderson, and upon motion of Maj. Hunt, Sandy Harris, were appointed Secretaries of the Convention, and entered upon the duties assigned them.

On motion of Mr. O'Brien, of Granville, it was resolved that the President of the Convention be requested to appoint two members from each delegation in attendance, whose duty it shall be to propose such reports and offer such resolutions as they may deem necessary for the action of this Convention; and also to take in charge such other subjects as may be submitted for their consideration by any member in his place, unless otherwise ordered by the Convention.

The President in obedience to the foregoing resolutions, proceeded to appoint the following gentlemen:

James Seawell, Thos. G. Polk, Rufus H. Kilpatrick, Willis N. Lea, Quentin Anderson, Alfred Jones, Wm. Boylan, Henry Fitts, Alexander Gordon, Portius Moore, James Mebane, Spencer O'Brien, John M Dick, John Mebane.

The Convention then adjourned to nine o'clock to-morrow.

Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road.—The Norfolk Beacon furnishes a very gratifying account of the progress of this work. Little doubt exists that the road will be completed within the time stipulated; and it has been found that the preparatory operation of grading the road and making it ready for the rails, will fall considerably below the estimated cost. The iron rails and locomotive engine have been ordered from Liverpool, and are expected to arrive in a short time. The road from Norfolk to Suffolk, it is confidently believed, will be ready for travelling by Christmas.—Raleigh Star.

Canal Tolls and Canal Navigation.—The aggregate amount of tolls received upon all the canals of the state for the month of August, is $147,945; exceeding the amount made during the same month last year, by the sum of $58,266. The revenue derived from tolls, from the opening of navigation, to the first of September, is greater by more than one hundred and fifty-eight thousand dollars, than it was during the same months of 1832: and exceeds by about $100,000 the receipts for the like period in 1831. The Cholera had a serious effect in diminishing the tolls for July and August of last year.

There is every indication of an active and extensive fall business, and it is now certain that the tolls of this year compared with last, will show an increase of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and it would not be surprising if the increase should come up to two hundred thousand.—Albany Argus.

Travels in America.—There is no end to the travelled foreigners who endeavor to immortalize themselves by exposing their ignorance of American manners and institutions. To Mrs. Trollope has succeeded Stuart, Hamilton, Alexander, and Coke: and now we learn that another work on the same subject is forthcoming, and shortly to issue from the press. It is, according to the New York Commercial Advertiser, from the pen of George Fibbleton, Esq. Ex-Barber to his Majesty the King of England, and (by permission) specially dedicated to Mrs. Trollope.—Boston Traveller.

The Secretary of the Navy returned to this city from his Eastern tour last Thursday. National Intelligencer.

FROM THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.

Major Downing's Gun.—We have seen an enormous rifle, at the Bank Coffee House, this morning, said to belong to the valorous Major Jack Downing. It is a brass piece, weighing, probably, 200 pounds, and must have an imposing appearance at the head of the Downingville troops.—Wonder if they all carry such guns?

BANK OF THE UNITED STATES.

A quiet citizen may well ask himself—

Why all this hostile outcry and movement against the Bank of the United States? Has not the institution done the most important service in equalizing and sustaining the currency? Is it not a perfectly safe depository and adequate agent for the public funds? Is it not in the highest credit abroad? Is it not—or some National Bank—indispensable for the same purposes? Could better, more efficient management be expected in another? Would not the destruction of this, and the organization of another, be attended with various and severe inconvenience to a host of unoffending individuals and to the nation? Has any complaint against the present institution—has any call for its extinction—originated with the People themselves; with the State Banks; or any class of men or corporate bodies, of real authority? Have not the two houses of Congress, and the legislatures of many States—immediate representatives of the People—declared by large majorities, for the renewal of its charter? Has it not transacted business with liberality and extensive usefulness? Could a better currency than we now have under its guarantee, be obtained? Might not the experiment of dispensing with it occasion a disastrous change in the whole condition of things, as connected with the currency, property and the operations of trade? Would the removal of the few errors or abuses which are imputed to it, compensate for the probable evils of its destruction? Are its foremost and most active assailants, the acknowledged patriots, the wisest heads, the great merchants and capitalists, the honest mechanics and farmers, the experienced or most intelligent political economists of the country? But, on the contrary, are they not, chiefly, notorious political aspirants and demagogues, adventurers and jobbers, party votaries, and interlopers in the councils of the Executive at Washington?

We say again, let any sound-hearted and clear-headed American put the foregoing questions to himself, or to any impartial and patriotic observer. The men of regular industry, who love the national weal, the men of property, who can appreciate a fixed standard of value, may cry out to the agitators and partisans, with regard to the Bank question—"Gentlemen, this is sport to you, but it may be death to us; we cannot co-operate with you in producing embarrassments and losses for ourselves and the country, unnecessarily, or merely to gratify your sinister purposes. Prosperity now reigns; there is every reason for content with what we possess; in this matter all past experience and present circumstances teach the inexpediency of change." We doubt, if the President's agent —the government—had included in his queries to the State Banks, this—"Do you deem the destruction of the Bank of the United States desirable for the country?"—whether any one of them, even in New York, would have answered in the affirmative. Sure we are that the majority and the principal of them would not have hesitated to return a negative.

All really conscientious scruples are to be respected. It is not, we believe, ascertained that President Jackson entertains any such scruples against the mere institution—a National Bank. But, in case he does, a patriotic citizen or member of Congress, however well affected to the President, may refuse to be influenced by this consideration, seeing so much of the public weal at stake, and knowing that the point of constitutionality has been settled by authority that incalculably preponderates,—the assent of every Congress, of the Supreme Court, of all former Presidents, of the immense plurality of the ablest statesmen and jurists since the formation of our government. A British Parliament said to Charles I., "In political matters, your conscience should conform to the opinion of Parliament and the nation." This advice was not followed by the imprudent and unfortunate monarch, but he finally regretted that he had sometimes indulged "a foolish or a peevish conscience." Should President Jackson persevere and prevail in his groundless hostility to the Bank, he may live long enough to discover, in the tranquility of his Hermitage, that his conscience was of the Stuart kind—little creditable to his understanding, and considerably injurious to his country. The keepers of his conscience are quite as suspicious as ever were those of the misguided Stuarts:—the composition and sway of the Kitchen Cabinet are understood, distrusted, reprobated, not by the avowed adversaries of the Administration, alone, but by the most respectable and a very large portion of the Jackson party proper.

Nat Gazette.

From the Baltimore Chronicle.

It is generally admitted that our Government is founded upon the intelligence and virtue of the people; and, to have proper representatives and public servants, they should choose such among themselves as are distinguished for these qualities. And to charge the representatives with corruption, is necessarily to infer that their constituents are likewise guilty. As an American citizen, I certainly feel disposed to repel such a charge, and certainly think our representatives do not deserve to rest under such a reproach. These remarks are suggested by reading the following paragraph in the Washington Globe of this morning. It is mortifying enough to see such sentiments expressed in foreign journals, but certainly no exception can be taken at the abuses of foreign detractors, and every good citizen should blush when we read them in our own papers, and those, too, prepared to meet the eye and concurrence of the administration. It is indicative of a vitiated taste, and very unjust jealousy of the popular branch of the Government. What possible good can be answered by such publications, or what particular interest to the party is served, I am at a loss to apprehend, but it certainly makes one feel for the honor of our legislators, and I hope such articles will not again find a place in the pages of any respectable newspaper.

WASHINGTON.

FROM THE GLOBE.

It is a simple fact that the MAJORITY in the last Congress, favorable to the Bank, was made up of BRIBED and retained members.

We regret to learn that a good many of the eastern Cotton Factories have "shut down their gates," in consequence of the high price of cotton, and yet comparatively low price of cotton goods—whereby many persons are thrown out of employment, and business generally is embarrassed.

Mississippi.—Franklin E. Plummer has resigned his seat in the House of Representatives, with a view to his being a candidate for the U. States Senate, in opposition to Mr. Poindexter; and J. F. H. Claiborne, of the county of Holmes, offers his services to the people, in place of Mr. Plummer.

Enquirer.

From the Encyclopedia Americana.

JOHNSTON BLAKELEY, a Captain in the U. States Navy during the late war, was born in Ireland, in October, 1781. Two years after, his father, Mr. John Blakeley, emigrated to the U. States, and settled in Wilmington, North Carolina. Young B. was placed, in 1796, at the University of North Carolina, being intended for the law. His father died the year after. In the year 1799, circumstances having deprived B. of the means of support, he left College, and, the next year, obtained a midshipman's warrant.—In 1813, he was made a master commandant, and soon after appointed to the command of the Wasp. In this vessel, he fell in with his Britannic majesty's ship Reindeer, in lat. 48 degrees 36 minutes. This ship he took, after an action of 19 minutes. The loss of the Americans was 21 killed and wounded, that of the enemy, 67. The Reindeer was cut to pieces in such a manner as to render it impossible to save her; and she was accordingly set on fire. After this, the Wasp put into L'Orient, from which port she sailed August 27, and four days afterwards falling in with 10 sail of merchantmen, under convoy of a ship of the line, she succeeded in cutting off one of the vessels.—The evening of the first of September, 1814, she fell in with four sail, two on each bow, but at considerable distances from each other. The first was the brig of war Avon, which struck after a severe action; but captain B. could not take possession, as another enemy was approaching. This enemy, it seems, however, was called off to the assistance of the Avon, which was now sinking. The enemy reported that they had sunk the Wasp by the first broadside; but she was afterwards spoken by a vessel off the Western Isles. After this, we hear of her no more. In his person captain B. was rather below the middle stature; his eyes black and expressive, his manners mild, manly and unassuming. Among his brother officers he was considered as a man of uncommon intellect, courage, and professional skill. He was married in December, 1813, to a lady of New York; and left an only daughter, who received one of the most affecting tributes of public gratitude, which have occurred in the history of the United States. The legislature of North Carolina, December 27, 1816, after prescribing the destination of the sword they had voted to captain B., "Resolved, unanimously, that captain Blakeley's child be educated at the expense of this State; and that Mrs. Blakeley be requested to draw on the Treasurer of this State, from time to time, for such sums of money as shall be required for the education of the said child."

The following notice of the extraordinary conduct of the officers of one of the Election Districts in Kentucky, in making a false return of the election for Representative to Congress, is from a paper published at Paris, in that State:

From the Western Citizen.

In our last, we announced to our readers that Robert P. Letcher had been elected to Congress from the 5th District; and such is the fact, as the certificates of the Judges of the Elections in the different counties composing the district will show. But, most extraordinary to tell, when the Sheriffs met to compare the polls, the certificate of the election was given to Mr. Moore. The facts appear to be these: On the morning of the day fixed for comparing the polls, all the Sheriffs were present but the Sheriff of Lincoln, Mr. Hocker, who was in the town on the evening previous, but who delayed making his appearance until just before dinner—and then without his poll-book. After dinner the Sheriffs again met, and with them Mr. Hocker, who moved to exclude the vote of Garrard, on account of illegal votes, but his proposition did not meet with a second. He then moved to introduce evidence to prove that illegal votes had been taken in Garrard, but in this failed. Foiled in these attempts, he withdrew, but returned again after a short time. The poll-books were examined and compared—except that of Lincoln. Mr. Hocker, finding that without the Lincoln vote Mr. Moore would be declared elected, most flatly refused to give up his poll-book, and told the Sheriffs he would have no more to do with them. The Sheriffs of four counties in the district gave Mr. Moore the certificate of election; on the back of which the Sheriffs of Anderson and Jessamine made an endorsement, that the vote of Lincoln had not been counted in.

The conduct of the Sheriff of Lincoln is most disgraceful, and will subject him to the punishment of the laws. The Penitentiary is a fit receptacle for an individual who thus attempts to trample upon the rights of the people; and we regret the law does not bear thus heavily upon his case. His apology refers to a subject beyond his jurisdiction. He had no right as a Sheriff to examine into the legality of the votes given in Garrard county; but was bound to give faith to the certificates of the Judges of the Election in that county.

New York Sept. 5.

A grand crash occurred yesterday in a large store in Wall-street, filled with crockery. The owners and clerks rushed out of doors, apprehensive that the whole building was coming down. On examination it was found that the brick pillars in the cellars, which sustained the central girders had burst apart. The girders are large timbers running from front to rear, and bearing the cross joists on which the floors are laid. These girders sunk in all the stories two or three feet, so that the floors now stand in the position of inverted roofs. No great damage was done to the goods, but it will be necessary to clear the store in order to replace the floors. The accident is attributable to the mortar, which was composed much according to the recipe in frequent use, viz: 75 parts, good course sand, and 25 parts best gutter water.

The stalks in our office present most remarkable appearances. What we we did not suppose susceptible of struction, but this, the true one, that cessful prosecution of the Virginia scheme of improvement into North Carolina on the one hand, and of South Carolina on the other, and of the Wilmington scheme in the centre, were calculated to ruin Fayetteville, by diverting her trade to other points. We could not fairly be suspected of making so ridiculous an assertion as that any league existed between them; and as for the expression "ruin of North Carolina," nothing like it is used in the article to which we suppose the "Member" to have reference. We regret to find our language so frequently misrepresented to the citizens of Wilmington, whose good opinion we have many reasons for desiring to retain.

The questions asked by this writer may be answered by the Carolina Watchman and the Wilkesborough writer, to whom they more properly belong than to us.

A witty writer in the same paper, who signs himself "Scribe," attributes to the Editor of this paper a desire to produce discord among the people of Wilmington by publishing the Wilkesborough letter. It is only necessary to say, that the extract was brought voluntarily to this office by the very respectable gentleman to whom it was addressed, during the sickness of the Editor, and that it was not seen by him until after it was in type.

The above furnishes a most conclusive justification of the people of Fayetteville for not wishing to squander their money in building a Rail Road along the margin of the Cape Fear to Wilmington. The Petersburg Rail Road is but half the length of the Cape Fear River from Fayetteville to Wilmington, and yet, as any one may see by comparing the above with the Rates of Freight established upon the River, the price of Transportation upon the former is from 50 to 150 per cent. higher; equal to from 100 to 300 per cent. for an equal distance. And this, too, notwithstanding the Rail Road has the advantage of carrying the great U. S. Mail and the accompanying Passengers.

Gama Grass.—In the agricultural department of our paper to-day will be found an interesting article on the Gama Grass. We have once or twice before invited the attention of our readers to the importance of the cultivation of this grass. We did not know it then, however, as a native of the country, and there was therefore some room to doubt whether it would here grow so luxuriantly as it was represented to do in some other places. Two weeks ago, a specimen was left at our office by Professor Mitchell, of the University, and on showing it to our visitors we found it to be no stranger among us. All knew it, and could testify to the luxuriance of its growth; but they had hitherto known it only as a troublesome weed, which it required a mattock to extirpate. Having this additional testimony to the luxuriance and hardiness of the plant, we can no longer doubt the great utility of its culture; and shall not be suprised if every one who shall make the experiment, and will be careful to cut it every month during the growing season, shall find his greatest trouble to be to provide stock to consume his provender.—Hillsborough Recorder.

We regret to state the death of John K. Campbell, Esq. District Attorney of the United States, for the Middle District of Florida, in a duel with a merchant, by the name of George Hamlin, on the 29th ult. A private letter from Tallahassee states, that "they met in Georgia, at 14 paces—that at the first fire, Mr. C's pistol snapped, and Mr. H. missed, but on the second fire, H. fired at the word "three," shot Campbell in the head, and killed him instantly.

Mr. Campbell was an eleve of the Orphan House of this city, and in consequence of his early display of talent, was educated at the South Carolina College, at the expense of the State. He was fast rising to eminence in his profession, and was married but in May last, to the neice of Gov. Duval. The Tallahassee Bar, met on the melancholy occasion of his death, passed resolutions expressive of their admiration of the talents and attainments of the deceased, and determined to wear the usual mourning for 90 days.—Charleston Courier.

Steam boat between Newbern and Elizabeth City.—The elegant new Steam Packet John Stoney, which arrived at Elizabeth City on Monday afternoon last, has been placed on the route between Newbern and Elizabeth City, and will hereafter run regularly, leaving Elizabeth City every Tuesday and Friday afternoon, immediately after the arrival of the Northern Mail. We understand that this boat will perform the run between the two towns in from 18 to 20 hours, and probably less. She now anticipates the mail line nearly a day. Arrangements are in progress to have the Southern end of the Atlantic route so arranged, as to be entirely worthy of confidence. The price of passage in the John Stoney from Elizabeth City to Newbern is $10, including fare. She will leave Newbern twice a week on her return to Elizabeth City, on such days and at such hours as will best suit the arrival of the Southern and Western Mails there.—Newb. Spec.

Gov. Hamilton.—Gen. Hamilton, late Governor of South Carolina, (says the Washington Examiner) has withdrawn from public life. In a conversation the other day, with a gentleman at Saratoga, he observed that he was done with public life, and that he intended to devote his time, in future, to the care and education of his children.

Congressional Election.—Col. Clowney, the nullification candidate, has been elected over Col. Williams, the Union candidate, in the Pinckney Congressional District, by a majority of 226 votes. In the united Districts of Edgefield and Abbeville, Mr. McDuffie has been re-elected by a very large majority over Mr. Pressley, the Union candidate. All the returns have not come in, but enough is known to render it certain that the delegation of S. Carolina, in the ensuing Congress, will be as follows:—1. Henry L. Pinckney;* 2. Dr. Thomas D. Singleton;* 3. William J. Grayson;* 4. William K. Clowney;* 5. Gen. James Blair; 6. George McDuffie; 7. John K. Griffin; 8. John M. Felder; 9. Warren R. Davis.

All nullifiers except Gen. Blair, and all, we believe, opposed to the U. States Bank, except Mr. McDuffie.—Charleston Courier.

Small lots of new Upland Cotton, are now selling in King-street at 16 cents, this being the highest price offered at present for prime parcels.

Charleston Courier, 13th inst.

In Augusta, on the 13th, good to prime Cotton was selling at 14 to 15 cents. The receipts large.

Extract of a letter received in Savannah, dated

"Augusta, Sept. 6.—Our streets are literally crowded with Cotton to-day. It is judged by many, there is in to-day 350 bales, all new. The sales commenced this morning at 18 cents for premium, and closed at 16—only 3 loads sold at the former price. We expect to-morrow 2 to 300 bales, and on Monday 500,—down the article will go. Look out. River low. Business brisk.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.

Forgeries.—A series of forgeries occurred on Monday, which has caused a great excitement in the city, from the success of the fraud, and the large sums secured by the scoundrel. Three checks were presented to different banks in the course of the morning: one to the Commercial Bank, purporting to be drawn by James Musgrave, broker, for $4,820; two others on the Philadelphia and Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, purporting to be drawn by Mr. Parke, broker, amounting to $9,000, all of which were paid. It is thought that the checks were presented by the same individual, who is described as about five feet eight or nine inches in height, of dark complexion, and genteelly dressed. He afterwards went to the United States Bank, where he exchanged a greater part of the money for notes of $1,000 on that bank. Suspicion is directed to a particular quarter, and it is probable that the villain will not long elude the vigilance of the Police. A reward of $1,000 is offered for the detection of the swindler and the recovery of the money.

Strange and Melancholy Coincidence.—On Monday last, while the Coroner's Inquest was sitting at Halifax, on two persons killed in the manufactories of Messrs. Wigley & Son, a messenger arrived to say, that James Murgatroyd, a dyer, had hung himself in a cellar, on which the Coroner determined to take the inquest without dissolving the jury; while that body was in deliberation upon the fate of Murgatroyd, another messenger arrived to inform the Coroner that John Dugdale, a journeyman tallow chandler, had committed suicide in the same way; and before the Jury had disposed of that case a third messenger arrived to say, that a man had hung himself in a neighbouring street. Appalled by this repetition of fatal intelligence, the Jury determined to separate, but some of them went to the house of the last mentioned person, when they found that he had been cut down just in sufficient time to save his life.

Philad. Sentinel.

The Cincinnati Tragedy.—In an article, headed "Summary Justice," we gave the particulars, as far as they were known, of a man who had been found dead in the cellar of a warehouse in this city. After our paper was at press, and nearly worked off, we learnt that he had been identified, and that his name was John Johnston.

The man was an old resident of Cincinnati, and had considerable property; how that property has been obtained is now but too plain. His house was taken possession of by the police on Sunday evening, immediately after his being identified, and on yesterday underwent an examination, when quantities of dry goods, groceries, &c. for there was a little of almost every thing, were found. Many of the goods were immediately claimed by merchants who had been robbed of them. A large quantity unclaimed, were sent to the Mayor's office, where they can be seen. Many hundreds of persons in the course of the day yesterday, went to see the dwelling of Johnson, and in the afternoon we went for the same purpose. The house is four story in front, upon Water street, and how many subterranean stories upon the river bank, we cannot say; we only went down three, the last, by a ladder; but never did the ingenuity of man contrive a building better calculated for the business which was carried on in it. There are numerous apartments dark as dungeons, comparatively, all the light they received being from a narrow passage of some 60 feet in length.

We understand from the police, that two apartments were discovered one of which was without door or window, under the roof, and entered by a trap door opening from the roof; another had a door so ingeniously contrived as not to appear to be an entrance, the key hole, which is small, being situated in what would be taken for the middle, of the door, although it is in fact the edge. The house has been some fifteen years building, and not yet finished.

Johnson was a man of liberal education and general information; has brought up a family of six or eight children, three or four of whom were daughters, to whom he gave the best of education, and who became connected, by marriage, with some of the most respectable families of the West. For them, (such as are living) and their connexions, there is one general burst of feeling, it could not be otherwise. Who does not feel for the innocent on such occasions?

Cincinnati Adv.

Baltimore, Sept. 7.

The receipts for travelling and transportation on the Baltimore and Ohio Rail road, for the six months ending the 31st August, exceeded one hundred and eight thousand dollars. The receipts during the same period of last year did not quite amount to ninety thousand—the increase was therefore above eighteen thousand, being an average of three thousand dollars per month.—Gaz.

Mr. Jenks, of the Nantucket Inquirer, says—"A hearty laugh occasionally is a mark of wisdom; it shakes the cobwebs out of a man's brain, and the hypocondria from his ribs, far more effectually than either champaigne, or blue pills."

Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company.—The Pittsburgh Gazette says that memorials, praying Congress for an additional subscription, on the part of the United States, of one million of dollars to that work, are now in circulation for signatures in that city and county.

We are informed that goods, coming from New York, have been shipped the present season from Albany to Galena, Pekin, Peoria, and Lower Alton in the State of Illinois; to Paris, Maysville, Petersburgh, Louisville, and Lexington, Kentucky; to Chicago and Green Bay, Michigan Territory; to Fort Wayne, via the Maumee, Indiana; to Nashville and Clarksville, Tennessee; to St. Louis, Missouri; and to Florence, Alabama. This information is derived from one of the forwarding lines, (the Merchants',) and embraces only the places to which that line had shipped goods; there are several lines engaged in transporting goods to Ohio, and the other western States, whose shipments might have been referred to, but we have given points in six States beyond Ohio, which are reached by goods transported through the Erie Canal.

Albany Argus.

$603,900 were passed to the credit of the U. States Treasury on Monday by the Collector of this port.—It was the amount of duties collected during the previous week, after deducting debentures, return duties, light house bills and all other sums paid by the Collector. It is, we understand, the largest sum which ever accrued in a single week. This does not look much like a reduction of revenue.

FOR THE OBSERVER.

Mr. Hale: When the force of truth is felt by the flagitious, they resort to artifice and prevarication, to shun the stroke or obtund the edge of the friendly weapon, which else, like the steel of the surgeon, would heal while it wounds.

If "Dry Creek" could have obtained the certificates he sought of respectable gentlemen, to rebut the facts contained in our communication, we at least would have been deprived the pleasure, which his compliments respecting scholarship gives us; but lest the encomiums be ironical, particularly with respect to our "learned quotations," let us give him the full benefit of his critical acumen—we will quote again, with an especial regard to his masterly correction, "Publish it not." No, verily, for there were many and divers reasons, why it should not have been published. In order that "Dry Creek" may not misunderstand us, we allude to his Celebration, for to him belongs the glory or the shame of the mighty achievement.

If ever a custom was more "honored in the breach than in the observance," this was the time that the followers of "Dry Creek," had they showed any deference to public sentiment, might have acquired a kind of negative glory,—but not so with these patriotic citizens; the silent unobtrusive virtues of the Patriot, had no charms for them; they must forsooth figure in the prints, and palm their abortion on the public, as the lineal, living descendant of American patriotism. Deeply as we revere the sacred usages of our country, "Dry Creek" must pardon us, if we disown the Brat, and honestly declare, that we see no form nor comeliness in it.

Without denying the facts contained in a former communication, "Dry Creek" entrenches himself behind the sympathies of the public, and touching a string, whose answering tone finds a ready echo in every freeman's breast, strives by a kind of legerdemain to shift the scene and hide from the public the disgraceful acts which gave rise to our strictures. Let him have the full force of his ingenuity, while we glance occasionally at his communication. Was "Pee Dee, (says he,) a Nullifier, whose anger flashes quick as sparks from a Blacksmith's forge, we might have found some cause for the raising of his fire?" There is a beautiful metaphor embraced in this interrogative which plainly shows the author's familiarity with forgings, and that such is his vice, his unwarrantable assertion of a "threatened resistance to blood," plainly indicates. We mean to follow the windings of "Dry Creek," a little further, and we pledge ourselves to throw no more "filth" upon him; "why carry coals to New Market?"

We beg pardon of the "little Tailor" for giving him such a title; it was a mistake on our part, by thinking that Gentlemen of the "Cloth" were designated by their professional names.

We are thankful for the maxim so elegantly inculcated by "Dry Creek," "act well your part, there all the honor lies," in return we would advise him never to overact his part; there all the danger lies.

As we are suspected of Nullification by "Dry Creek," common justice demands that we be permitted to hint our suspicions. Was he labouring under hallucination when he advised the persons alluded to, to ensconce themselves behind their notoriety? Strange fatuity! to lean on that which would support them least.

We admit the force and beauty of the gentleman's remark respecting "women of loose character," assuming the habits of the virtuous. Shame upon them, Mr. Editor, to be so careless as to let 'Dry Creek' see through the flimsy pretext, and avail himself of the full advantage gained by the discovery.

To conclude, Mr. Editor: We thank you for the indulgence extended towards us in the use of your columns. Dry Creeks are so common here, we will notice them no more, fervently hoping that the 'latter rains' may fill them all and gladden the hearts of the citizens of PEE DEE.

STOP THE RUNAWAY!

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY from the Subscriber on the 4th of August, a Negro Boy named PETER. He is about 17 or 18 years of age, rather an old appearance for a boy of that age; his weight is about 120; his height five feet one or two inches; small feet and ancles; large shoulders, and a tottering walk; he has a scar on one of his hands, but it is not recollected which; he is quite black. The last account I had of him, he had on a cotton shirt and bombazette pantaloons. He will be found quite artful in telling tales in his own favor to make his escape. I suppose Peter will try to get back to the County of either Greene or Craven, as he was brought from one of them or from one of the adjoining Counties by a Speculator, about four years ago. He was seen on Monday, the 19th of August, about eight miles east of Rockingham, on the stage road leading from Rockingham to Graham's bridge.

Any person taking up said Boy, can let me know it, by dropping me a few lines to Tindalsville, Anson County, North Carolina.
